As a result of these reforms, the state policy on youth has changed radically. Therefore, a deep and comprehensive study of this issue is one of the main requirements of today. “...Currently, youth education remains an issue for us that does not lose its relevance and relevance.” During the reforms carried out in this area in the Republic, it is necessary to develop spiritual and ideological preventive activities of our entire people, especially young people. As a result, ideological prophylaxis remains an important issue that will never lose the relevance and relevance of the continuous development of the spiritual propaganda system either.

Against the background of geopolitical situations, armed conflicts and unrest taking place in today's threatening world, we feel deeply again that peace in the country is a boon that is of paramount importance to us.

There is also no exaggeration to say that the comprehensive support of young people, the most valuable resource of the country, the upbringing of them as patriots and the formation of an uncompromising mood against all types of crimes, is one of the pressing issues of the present day.

At the beginning of this year (03.01.2025 y.) The first signed Presidential Decree No. 1 by the head of state also defined the tasks aimed precisely at the formation of a safe environment in the neighborhoods.

The introduction of the” neighborhood seven " System and the reduction of all reforms to the neighborhood was the most important step in this regard. In particular, a completely new vertical management system was created for organizing youth work in the neighborhood.

The emphasis on youth, the issue of youth in general, has become a priority of Public Policy.

Based on the above established important tasks and tasks, practical and systematic work is carried out by a number of ministries and expressions on the early prevention of crime and offenses among young people, increasing their legal literacy, raising them in the spirit of military patriotism.

We know that unemployment among young people all over the world can lead not only to economic, but also to negative situations such as social problems — crime, labor migration, social infidelity.

Therefore, ensuring youth employment is not only an economic issue, but also a security and stability issue and an effective mehanism of preventing youth crime .

First, the issue of youth employment is the most important and integral part of our reforms.

This year, our president signed an important document aimed at ensuring the employment of 3 young people and broad development of entrepreneurial activity, which directly affects the fate of our young people.

The "youth balance"of 9.2 million young people was formed by the youth leaders, important members of the "neighborhood seven", which we mentioned above, and specific and targeted work was established to solve their problems, realize their interest and talent.

In particular, the "youth employment program", aimed at supporting 384.4 thousand young people who are unemployed and want to start their entrepreneurship, was adopted, providing employment for 161.5 thousand (42 percent) by the half of this year .

In accordance with the Presidential Decree of February 14 "on additional measures for the development and employment of youth entrepreneurship", 449.6 billion long-term preferential loans were allocated to 3,698 projects under the "Youth Business" program by "Alaqabank" and 7,869 new jobs were replaced by unemployed youth.

On the basis of the president's decision "on additional measures to promote the employment of graduates of higher education organizations", the step into the Future program was launched by the National bank.

The meaning and purpose of the foreign policy of our state is one-if it is also the interest of Uzbekistan and, once again, the interest of Uzbekistan. Today, the fight against international terrorism, extremism and radicalism remains the main factor uniting the countries of the world. Uzbekistan fully supports the uncompromising struggle of the world community against this plague of the XXI century .

Humanity now has the question "what should be the world in which we live?", "How to put an end to bloodshed, extremism, and hostility between people?", he is constantly thinking about the issue. The issue of how to educate each person separately and society as a whole in the spirit of not interpreting other individuals and societies at a negative level, patiently reacting to the opinion of others-understanding that it is one of the most fundamental signs of a Democratic, exclusive society, is also of paramount importance.

In the process of globalization, the growing interdependence of humanity and the realization of responsibility for its further fate is undoubtedly allowing tolerance to form a culture.
